David Sanabria

David is a color specialist and owner of D Hair Studio in Wicker Park, Chicago, where he is committed to both his craft and the products he uses. Taking inspiration from comic book superheroes and anime, he aims to create great hair with a personalized edge for each client. After completing cosmetology school, completing an apprenticeship, and getting his chair, David has continued his commitment to education by becoming a Regional Master Trainer with Davines. He is known to conduct his classes with ease and playfulness, and in doing so, David hopes to raise the bar for technique and creativity within the industry.
